

The March 2020 Meeting of the Maryland Orchid Society has been CANCELLED.

Following best medical practices in the face of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Woodbrook Church is closed for the next two weeks and we will follow that closing. The attached newsletter was prepared before the public closures, and some of the information may be dated, but the rest is good news for all time.

We look forward to hearing Dr. Griesbach at some future meeting.

In the mean time, use the opportunity to preen and enjoy your plants. Keep healthy. Avail yourself of best practices at the Centers for Disease Control and prevention site at CDC.gov.

1. Clean your hands often.
2. Avoid close contact.
3. Stay Home if you're sick.
4. Cover coughs and sneezes.
5. Wear a facemask if you are sick.
6. Clean and disinfect.

2020 March's Acting President's Message

They say "Spring is just around the corner". Maybe, maybe not. As fickle as this winter has been, we might be snowed in for Easter and Passover.

Thank goodness for our beautiful orchids. They never cease to bring good vibes. If you have any doubt, check out our displays at the Home and Garden Show March 6, 7, and 8. A great big THANK YOU, to all who put in displays, all who donated plants for the displays and all who helped in many other ways. A particularly big THANK YOU to Marc Kiriou, our first time show chairperson for a job well done!

One more away show to go...SEPOS on the weekend of April 3, 4, and 5th. Let Valerie Lowe know if you will have plants to lend and if you can help set up and tear down.

Our next big "non-show" event is the Spring Workshop scheduled for April 18th at the Woodbrook Baptist Church. Volunteers are needed. Please contact me and let me know if you can help out.

A reminder that this year we need to nominate a slate of new officers for the position of President, Vice President, Treasurer, Secretary and two Directors. Members of the search committee are Laura Sobelman, Clark Riley and Bob Travers. If you are approached by any of the search committee, please consider volunteering to be put on the ballot for an available position. The election will be held at the June 18th meeting.

Well, you are probably getting tired of hearing "wash your hands, use hand sanitizer, cover your cough and stay home if you are feeling ill", but a word to the wise... stay well!

Sarah Spence

2020 March's Speaker

The Program Committee

is pleased to welcome our own

Rob Griesbach

Rob last presented to MOS in June 2013, when he was identified as the most frequent presenter in the MOS annals with over 10 presentations. He earned a Ph.D.

in genetics from Michigan State University in 1980. The following year, he joined USDA's Agricultural Research Service (USDA-ARS) as a plant geneticist. He authored over 125 scientific papers and popular publications, as well as presenting over 200 scientific seminars and popular talks. In 2006, Rob was named a Fellow in the American Society for Horticultural Science. In 2010, he received the American Horticulture Society's H. Marc Cathey Award for research.

Rob has long been active in the American Society; he is a Past President of the AOS and has served as the Chair of its Research Committee and as a Trustee. Closer to home he has been active as an AOS-accredited Judge working through the National Capital Judging Center.

Were you there?

Were you there?

Where's Tom??
Who's got him?
What's he doing?
Oh, he's at the show
Now we know.
He's working the show.

Did you help?

Were you there?

It's one of our money makers!

Tom's busy this week as every week, this time of the year.
The show is very important to him and the other vendors.

'How Do I Get My Orchid Named and Awarded?'

As we continue through this year's active show season, many of us are contributing plants and creating displays. We strive to produce and groom the best possible specimens for our own satisfaction and, if we are fortunate and skilled, we may win recognition for our efforts. Besides the ribbons that our members frequently receive, the AOS also awards certificates for flower quality and overall cultural excellence of the plant. Earning the opportunity to name a high quality orchid is also a privilege for which we can strive. The talk will cover how orchids are named; how to get my orchid named; why orchids are judged; what all the different awards mean; and how to get my orchid judged.

Coming Attractions

Our April speaker will be Beth Davis of Waldor Orchids in New Jersey.

She will be presenting on:

"A Little Warrior in a Big New World: Neofinetia falcata History, Culture and New Hybrids"

Beth will be bringing a variety of plants for sale, will facilitate purchase of supplies from Waldor, and may be able to obtain specific orchids from the Waldor stocks. We'll be providing more information on that in the future.

Jean Allen-Ikeson introduces us to the genus Caularthron and its hybrids. The four species of Caularthron aren't often seen in today's collections but their hybrids with more familiar members of the Cattleya Alliance are becoming more common. These hybrids are often quite easy to grow and very eye-catching. You will not want to miss this beautifully illustrated article.

Also in this issue Andrew Coghill-Behrends begins a multipart series on the smaller flowered phalaenopsis species and their hybrids and Arthur Chadwick introduces us to the artist George O'Keeffe and her botanical paintings.

The 23rd World Orchid Conference and Show Is Postponed

In order to protect the WOC participants and visitors to the orchid show from contracting the COVID-19, The City of Taichung announced to postpone the "23rd World Orchid Conference and Show", which was scheduled for March 9-18, 2020 at the former Flower Expo site in Waipu, Taichung, Taiwan.

The city government of Taichung said, "although tremendous efforts have been placed on organizing the orchid conference and show and plenty has been done to keep everyone safe, in light of a possible disease spread and to comply with the national policy to contain the virus, the City of Taichung and Taiwan Orchid Growers Association have jointly decided to postpone this event to a later time in 2020 after the COVID-19 has subsided.”

“It took many years of efforts to secure the right to host the World Orchid Conference”, said the Agriculture Bureau of the City of Taichung which is the WOC sponsor. The City further stressed that “Due to health concerns and to comply with the national healthy emergency policy, following extensive deliberations, we decided to postpone this long anticipated major orchid event. We do recognize the difficulties for those who have nearly completed their orchid exhibits as a result of the postponement. We hope that WOC 2020 will soon be resumed later in the year after the threat of COVID-19 no longer exists.” For more information, please visit the 23rd WOC website linked here.”

Don't miss these webinars in March
